AN OLD FORGING GAME IS WORKED

Young Couple Swindles 3 Grocers by Purchasing Small Bill of Goods
and Presenting Bogus Check.

ALL OF THEM ARE FOR $7.50

Charles Berry, One of Grocymen,
Becomes Suspicious and Learns
Paper is Worthless.

Three local grocers were swindled by a check forger Saturday night. The victims were Charles Berry, James Voile and W. E. Clarkson. In each instance, the checks were for $7.50 and at all three of the stores the forger purchased a small bill of goods and obtained the change from the check.

They first appeared at the W. E. Clarkson and Son's store in West Third street. From here they went to the Voile store in West Second street and then to the Berry store. In each instance the checks were made payable to "F. E. Palmer." The checks received by Voile and Clarkson were signed in the name of The Winkler Grain Company, but the one received by Berry was signed "Case Lumber Company." All the checks were on the Rushville National bank.

At the Berry store they purchased $1.95 in goods. Mr. Berry stated that he was suspicious, but nevertheless cashed the check. As soon as they left the store Mr. Berry got busy and learned how the Case Lumber company signed their checks. It was a rank forgery and he started out to look for the couple. The police were notified but no trace was found of the man and woman.

It is believed they left the city on a traction car. It is estimated that the couple obtained at least fifteen or sixteen dollars from the three merchants.

A. M. PRICE DROPS DEAD AT MANUEVERS

Caretaker of Local Hitchrack, Participating in "War in Indiana," is Stricken Suddenly.

WAS MEMBER OF IVY COMPANY

A. M. Price, age about sixty-six years, a veteran of the civil war and caretaker of the city hitchrack for a number of years, dropped dead during maneuvers at the "War in Indiana" at the Indianapolis motor Speedway this afternoon, according to word received here about three o'clock. Mr. Price was a member of Ivy company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, of this city, which took part in the maneuvers.

No details were received concerning his demise other than that he had dropped dead, it is presumed, from heart trouble. His health has been such that he has been able to be at his duties at the hitchrack every day. His son, Russell Price, was in Indianapolis and it was thought here he would take charge of the body. At four o'clock this afternoon the widow, at 318 West Tenth street, was still without any news of his death aside from that received here in dispatches.

Mr. Price is survived by the widow and three children, Russell of this city and Mrs. R. E. Martin, living southeast of here, and Mrs. Nannie McCready, living west of here.

IS TAKEN TO STATE FARM

Bert Pierce Begins 90-Day Sentence
For Beating Board Bill.

Bert Pierce, sentenced to the penal farm for 90 days for beating a board bill, was taken there this morning by Sheriff Cavitt. Pierce was also wanted in Greensburg and Madison. The officials in these two cities were notified of the action here and it is likely that they will grab him when his time is up at the state farm. Pierce told Mayor Bebout that he believed he had been taught a lesson. Efforts to find out to whom he sold Harlan Overleese's watch failed.

WATSON SPEAKS AT NOBLESVILLE TODAY

Former Congressman Makes Address
at Republican Labor Day Rally
This Afternoon.

WAS AT GOLDSMITH SATURDAY

James E. Watson left this morning for Noblesville where he was to deliver a Labor Day speech at a big Republican rally in that city. Although there was the state fair and the "War in Indiana" at Indianapolis to attract people, the Republicans of that section of the state were planning to give Mr. Watson a big reception.

Mr. Watson just arrived home Saturday evening from Goldsmith, Tipton county, where he delivered a speech Saturday afternoon at an old settlers' meeting. Several years ago Mr. Watson was invited to speak at the annual gathering of old settlers, but rain fell in torrents and he was unable to speak. He promised to return some time later when it was desired that he speak and the managers of the meeting held him to his promise this year.

IVY COMPANY GOES UP FOR MANUEVERS

Rushville Uniform Rank Expected to Making Good Showing at
"War in Indiana" Today

AN EXTRA CAR ON THE I. & C.

Ivy Company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, went to Indianapolis this morning to participate in maneuvers at the "War in Indiana" at the Speedway. It was just announced Saturday that the Uniform Rank of Indiana would have a part in the immense war spectacle being staged this afternoon for the benefit of a proposed national guard armory. Arrangements were soon made and the members of Ivy company readily joined in the effort to make a good showing at the maneuvers. General Samuel L. Traub, adjutant general on the staff of Major General William H. Loomis, and Colonel G. P. Hunt, chief mustering officer on the staff of General William B. Gray, will have prominent places in the review.

The I. & C. ran two cars at the time for the Dispatch this morning and both were crowded, with passengers standing. Ivy company went on one of those cars.

A marriage license was issued Saturday afternoon to Homer L. Anderson and Mrs. Edna Sharer. Both are residents of Carthage.

COURT OPENS IN USUAL ROUTINE

Calling of Docket, Making up Issues
and Dismissal of Many Cases
Marks Beginning Today.

ARGUMENT SET FOR FRIDAY

Validity of Public Service Commission Will be Attacked in First
Case of its Kind.

The September term of the Rush circuit court was opened this morning with calling of the docket and making up the issues in several cases. A number of suits were dismissed, as is the general rule at the opening of a term. Nothing of much importance is scheduled for trial this week excepting the hearing set for Friday of the case of the city of Rushville against the state public service attacking the validity of the act creating the commission in relation to the orders issued by the commission increasing the rates of the Peoples Natural and Central Fuel Gas companies.

The argument in this case will be of wide importance as it will be the first time the question of the constitutionality of the public service commission act will be tested. Bert New, legal advisor to Governor Ralston, and either Attorney General Milburn or some one from his office will be present to defend the commission act.

John A. Tiftworth and T. M. Green will represent the gas companies in the attack made by the city on the law as a means of preventing the enforcement of orders raising the rates of the two gas companies. The city will be represented by Kiplinger & Smith. The suit is for an injunction and to review the order of the commission increasing the rates. Briefs in the case have been in the hands of the court a good part of the vacation season.

On the showing that John Lewis was a minor, in the petition to sell real estate of Nina Lewis, administratrix of the estate of the late John G. Lewis, against Nina Lewis and John Lewis, B. F. Miller was appointed guardian of John Lewis and accepted the trust.

The replevin suit of Minnie A. Wilson against John A. Wilson, in which $25 was demanded, was dismissed by the plaintiff at the plaintiff's costs. It was appealed from Squire Kratzer's court.

The case of Sallie Southworth against Alvin Southworth for a divorce and alimony was dismissed by the plaintiff at her cost.

The suit which was brought by Gale Smiley against Lawrence C. Cummins for the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage and a receiver for a barber shop Smiley sold to Cummins was dismissed by Smiley and the costs are to be paid for. Two hundred dollars was demanded.

A. R. Herkless's suit to foreclose an improvement lien against Clyde Dishinger and Lessie Grace Dishinger, in which $100 was demanded, was dismissed and the costs paid. A similar suit brought by Herkless against P. A. Miller, in which the demand was $300, was also dismissed and the costs paid.

The account suit demanding $19.50 of Agnes Winston against Victor Scott was dismissed and the costs paid.

Another account suit for $50 brought by Alva E. Newhouse and Sam L. Newhouse, partners doing business under the name of Newhouse Brothers, against Victor Scott, was dismissed and the costs paid.

Enos Porter of Shelbyville Offers
$50 Flag to Largest Shelby
County Delegation

COMING TO "BURGOO" FEAST

Word Comes From Other Counties of
Preparations For Big Event,
Big Kettle Shipped

Enos Porter, a manufacturer of Shelbyville and a most enthusiastic Republican has offered a silk flag valued at $50 to the township in Shelby county which sends the largest delegation to Rushville for the ox roast and "burgoo" feast in the city park here one week from next Wednesday, September the fifteenth.

This is only illustrative of the interest which is being taken elsewhere in the biggest political event of the state thus far this campaign. If the interest is as keen in other counties as it is in Shelby, there isn't any question but that the estimates previously placed on the crowd which is expected will have to be revised.

John H. Kiplinger, chairman of ox roast committee, received word today that the immense kettle which will be used for cooking the "burgoo" had been shipped from Lexington, Ky., by N. D. Lawrence, the "burgoo" man, and that it would arrive here in the next few days. The kettle will hold six hundred gallons and many persons have been trying to imagine just how big a kettle that will hold six gallons is. Many are skeptical and say plainly they will "have to be shown."

That is just what the committee expects to do—show them. As soon as the kettle arrives, it will be thoroughly cleaned and pasted over with placards advertising the big political meeting. It will then be stationed in some public place for the inspection of everyone.

Personal letters are being sent broadcast inviting prominent Republicans from all parts of the state to the big meeting. Judging from replies which are coming in daily, practically every part of the state will be represented.

Dick Elliott has written from Connersville that there will be an immense automobile delegation and others by traction, headed by a brass band, from his home city and word comes from Judge Head at Brookville that Franklin county Republicans will send a big crowd to show where their heart is. The same news reaches here from Union and Hancock and it is believed that Henry county will also be well represented.

Although Decatur county is not in the sixth district, the Republicans of Greensburg and the county at large are planning to take a holiday on the fifteenth and visit in Rushville. Jefferson Davis, of northern Decatur county, who is a staunch friend and great admirer of James E. Watson's has spent all of his time since the ox roast was announced driving about Decatur county urging his friends to come.

An effort is being made to get the Columbia club and the Marion club to send delegations, with a brass band, from Indianapolis. It is said that Mr. Watson's friends in Marion county will not miss the opportunity of hearing him.

In addition to candidates for places on the state ticket, personal invitations have been sent to every avowed Republican congressional candidate in the state of Indiana and to all those who have either been mentioned or have considered the advisability of running for Congress.

4.7 Rifle Mounted.

IT WAS NEXT TO IMPOSSIBLE

(By United Press.)
Montreal, Sept. 6.—"I am practically certain there was no gun mounted on the Hesperian," was the statement of Andrew Allan today, concerning the dispatch of the American consul that a 4.7 inch rifle was mounted astern.

"We have no guns mounted on any of our ships," he said, "unless they have been taken over by the government as transports. A 4.7 is a pretty big gun and in order to mount one of them on a liner the whole of the inside of the ship would have to be braced up. I don't think it possible that a gun could have been put on the Hesperian."

SUCH ATTACKS UNWARRANTED

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Sept. 6.—Awaiting complete reports on the supposed torpedoing of the Allan liner Hesperian, President Wilson and Secretary Lansing suspended judgment and action today.

None of the tension and anxiety which followed the Arabic incident was observable. Officialdom did not discount the new situation's gravity as bearing on the prospective German-American submarine controversy, but the general view was that Germany had repudiated her formal guarantee against unarmed U-boat attacks on American liners.

Arrangements were made today for an early conference between Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Bernstorff, the latter being scheduled to arrive here during the day.

The Hesperian incident did not bring Secretary Lansing to the state department today. White House attaches did not seem worried.

Officials said it was most fortunate the incident was preceded by the receipt of Germany's pledge concerning Germany's submarine warfare. They expressed the belief that this pledge was given in good faith and they expected a satisfactory explanation.

There was some question whether the liner was torpedoed. Some thought it struck a mine.

Amsterdam, Sept. 6.—Germany will disavow the attack on the Hesperian, if English reports of the circumstances are corroborated by her submarine commander, according to a dispatch from Berlin today.

Germany's explanation, the dispatch stated, will be that if a submarine torpedoed the liner without warning, it was because the U-boat had left its base before the new instructions were issued through the admiralty.

(By United Press.)
London, Sept. 6.—The Allan liner Hesperian, attacked by a German submarine off the Irish coast Saturday evening, sank at 6:47 a. m. today while proceeding to Queenstown.

A wireless dispatch to Queenstown this noon said Captain Main and members of the crew who remained aboard the Hesperian were taken off safely. They were placed aboard steamers towing the Hesperian after she sank.

Earlier advices had indicated that though the liner was badly damaged she was expected to remain afloat. She was due to arrive at Queenstown at about 10 a. m. today. Her course took her over the graves of the Lusitania and Arabic. It was presumed that she settled within a few miles of the hulk of one of the other victims of German boats.

Contradictory reports were received here today about the loss of life. Officers of the Allan line gave out a statement that the 350 passengers and 300 men of her crew had all been put into boats and had reached Queenstown in safety.

Press dispatches, however, reported the death of Miss Carberry, who is said to have been hurled from one of the boats and to have died from the shock, and of another woman who was badly injured and died on a rescue steamer.

The injured number about thirty. For the most part they were passengers in two of the boats which capsized in the darkness before they struck the water.

Not more than two or three American citizens, these members of the crew, were reported aboard the Hesperian. Queenstown dispatches today said that no Americans were injured.

Officers of the Allan line late this afternoon received a brief preliminary report from the officers of the steamer Hesperian. The contents of the report were not disclosed but it was understood Captain Main said the liner was attacked without warning and that she made no attempt to escape.

The captain, other officers and members of the crew were landed at Queenstown today. It was pointed out here the sinking of the Hesperian preventing examination in dry dock might cause some doubt as to whether she has been torpedoed or had struck a mine. Allan line officials said affidavits already collected from passengers offered proof that the vessel was submerged.

Sixteen men of the crew of 286 of the Hesperian had not been accounted for this afternoon, it was stated here. Of the passengers, 338 have arrived at Queenstown. The Allan line had no confirmation of re-

Dr. Strong Says Typhus Mortality

Rate in Serbia is Reduced
From 70 to 20 Per Cent

WITHIN SPACE OF 3 MONTHS

Head of American Mission Spends

Nights on Train Hurrying to
Assistance of Stricken

BY HENRY WOOD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

(Copyrighted in Great Britain)

Nish, Serbia, Aug. 4. (By Mail)—

From 100,000 cases of typhus to 600 and from a maximum mortality of 70 per cent to one of 20—all within the space of three months is the record of the American Red Cross and Rockefeller Institute Sanitary mission sent here to save the Serbian nation from the epidemic that was threatening its actual existence.

By Sept. 1, Serbia will be entirely free of the plague.

The full story of the most remarkable humanitarian task ever undertaken by the United States was today told for the first time in an interview granted to the United Press by Dr. Richard P. Strong, professor of tropical disease at Harvard University, and head of the American mission. The interview took place in the little third class railway car, which fitted out with beds in one part and a shower bath in the other, and with a flat car attached behind for carrying his automobile and another car in front for the members of his immediate staff, has been practically the only home Dr. Strong has known in Serbia. Almost every night of the three months campaign has been spent by him abroad the car hurrying from one end of Serbia to the other in the fight against the deadly plague.

"The typhus epidemic in Serbia," stated Dr. Strong, "began last January in the vicinity of Valievo, following the Austrian invasion of the month before, and spread with such rapidity that it became the greatest epidemic of the disease recorded in modern medical annals. The epidemic reached its height in the middle of April just as the American mission arrived. New cases then numbered 8,500 daily, but it must be remembered that these were the figures only of the victims who came to the military hospitals. Serbia had not been able even to keep statistics of the victims among the civil population and so the above figures give, as a matter of fact, no accurate idea of the extent of the epidemic.

"In fact, few figures of any kind are to be had, but presumably the total deaths from the epidemic have been about 100,000 and the number of victims down with the disease at the time we took charge was very likely of equal magnitude.

"As such an epidemic of typhus never before had occurred in the history of modern medicine, I freely confess that it was with no little concern we first arrived here. A quick survey of the situation convinced me the plague could be wiped out in four months. I am still confident that when the four months are entirely past, the last of the 600 cases still remaining will have disappeared.

"Following the preliminary organization of a national sanitary board, something Serbia had not had, and the division of the country into sanitary districts, we at once went after the practical end of the work—namely the chasing down and extermination of the louse from whose bite alone the disease is transmitted.

"As the quickest means of reaching the greatest number of the stricken population in the shortest possible time, we had two refrigerator cars placed at our disposal. In one of these was installed an apparatus for the disinfecting of clothing by heavy steam pressure and its immediate drying afterwards. In the second car was fitted the necessary appliances for a disinfecting bath of the victims.

"With the arrival of the car at each town, a tent was at once pitched by the side of the railroad in which the population could undress. They then entered the first car where they left their clothing for disinfection and passed immediately into the second car for the disinfection of their bodies. Only ten minutes were required for the joint operation at the end of which time each person was given back his clothing, dried and ready to put on, with the absolute assurance that not a single louse or nit remained.

"Our average speed was 500 to 600 cases a day and in the three and a half months we have had the car in operation we figure that a total of not less than 600,000 persons have been reached in this manner.

"Unfortunately, railway communication in Serbia is very limited and the reaching of the population in the interior presented a different problem. Individual sanitary missions were therefore sent to each important town traveling in military automobiles or carriages, and frequently having their supplies carried in ox carts. Disinfecting and bathing plants were then established in each big center of population and the same process of extermination carried on.

Where the Serbian government had funds at its disposal these plants were erected at its expense, but where it did not, we paid for them ourselves. A total of 53 plants were thus installed by us and they constitute a permanent part of Serbia's equipment for fighting a similar situation should it ever come again.

"The next most important phase of the work was our sanitary assault of the military hospitals. These from the start had been the most prolific centers for the spreading of the disease. They were at all times congested to the limit with wounded or sick soldiers, whose infested clothing quickly spread the disease to almost every inmate.

"In attacking the hospitals we took with us portable bath tubs and had at our disposition the Austrian prisoners to give the sick and wounded their disinfecting baths. While they were doing this we put their clothing and bedding through the steam process and then wound up by disinfecting the entire building with sulphur and often even white-washing the walls. Of the 113 military hospitals in Serbia fully 100 passed through this sanitary regeneration at our hands.

"Still another most important phase of the work was the visiting of every house almost in the entire kingdom and separating the diseased from the well. The quarantining of the infected persons was something which the local authorities had not been able to undertake, but under our direction is was quickly and thoroughly carried out.

"While we were hard at work on this extermination of typhus we also had our eyes constantly on the lookout for cholera and typhoid. None of the former was found, but the latter was abundant. Against this, and against the former too, we therefore prepared in our own laboratories which we had established in the old Turkish town of Uskub, a combined serum against cholera, typhoid and paratyphoid. This was prepared in such a manner that two injections were sufficient and thus it was possible to administer it to both the army and the civil population with a minimum of labor. For this task of vaccination we had our own vaccinating car which covered all the territory that could be reached by rail, and we also furnished the serum to the French surgeons here who undertook its administration in the army.

"In connection with this laboratory work, we started from the very first on a search for the typhus germ but up to the present moment complete success has not crowned our efforts. The organism discovered by Dr. Plotz at Mt. Sinia hospital New York, has not yet been found here by us, but with the aid of cultures which he has placed at our disposition complete success may yet crown this end of the work. It is being actively pushed by Dr. Zinsser of Columbia and Dr. Sellards of Harvard.

"One of the most happy features of the whole work was the manner in which we ourselves, after the terrible experiences of the Serbian and American Red Cross units kept free from the disease. Not one of the 54 men comprising our mission fell a victim. But naturally we had at our disposition all of the latest possible preventions. Every doctor assigned to hard work amongst the victims wore a vermin proof suit, rubber gloves and adhesive bands above the wrists and ankles. We have not been able to demonstrate that the disease is contagious and in fact there seems no reason to believe that it is transmitted otherwise than by the bite of the infected vermin.

"In Montenegro we were most fortunate in being able to check the epidemic before it could become general. Dr. Grinnell of Harvard, who was assigned to that territory, arrived when the disease had only got into the towns. These were quickly quarantined and the plague out at once.

"Thus by the middle of August I think I will be able to guarantee that typhus will be a thing of the past in Serbia. Not only that, but we would be greatly disappointed if it ever came again. But still even in this later case, Serbia now has at its disposition all of the facilities necessary for speedily combatting any outbreak.

"Naturally our success was only possible through the most hearty cooperation of every man composing the mission, and this has been one of the two bright spots of the entire task. There was not a man who ever objected to any task assigned him no matter how disagreeable or even how dangerous it might be.

"The other bright spot which stands out most vividly was the unflinching kindness of Sir Thomas Lipton to the members of the mission. Not only did he cheer us up with words at every moment when cheer was most needed but this unending efforts to furnish members of the mission with little odds and ends for their material comfort gave evidence of a kindly consideration of others such as I have never before met.

"As a result of our four months work here, I think I can safely say that Serbia is a regenerated nation from a sanitary point of view and the effects of this I feel certain will be reflected in her national life and development for years to come."

DISCUSS PROBLEMS GROWING FROM WAR

American Public Health Association
Convenes Today and Considers

Vigilance Against Disease.

WHICH WILL INVADE AMERICA

(By United Press.)

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The American Public Health Association, convening here today, was expected to devote much consideration to the problems that have grown out of the war in Europe. The necessity for vigilance against epidemic diseases is in the mind of every state and municipal health officers present, judging by their statements.

"This year," said Prof. William T. Sedgewick, president of the association, "we must beseech all Americans to prepare to deal with unusual invasions of minute, mostly invisible, but often multitudinous and powerful enemies. We must defend American homes against typhus as well as typhoid, against Asiatic cholera and against bubonic plague.

FRIENDLY SUIT IS FILED

W. H. Parris Lost Certificate of Deposit For $600.

The loss of a certificate of deposit for $600 is the basis of a suit filed today by William H. Parris against the Rush County National bank. The complaint states that on December 30, 1914 he deposited $600 with the bank and was given a certificate payable in six months bearing six per cent interest. Mr. Parris states that on August 20, 1915, he lost the certificate and now has no means of showing that he had the money on deposit. He demands $650. It is understood that the suit is entirely friendly.

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

The battle on which the fate of Paris rests is raging along a front of 150 miles, the Germans apparently attacking in greatest force on the French right. In the Marne Valley the French have driven back the Germans. Nancy vigorously attacked by Germans.

German forces are within ten miles of Ghent. Their attack on Antwerp has been delayed, through fear of assault by the remnant of the Belgian army, it is believed.

The Austrian resistance is reported broken and the Russians are in pursuit between the Vistula and the Bug. Russians are encompassing Przenysl. Its fall expected to mean much toward making an advance on Berlin possible.

Belgrade still stubbornly resisting Austrian attack.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, poisoning the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, uneasy, sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the minute May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercenary origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not for a moment a source of exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall, and thus assist in the elimination of waste products, which may be procured from any drugstore—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallowness, and dry skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver and bowels—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable, and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible way to overcome the complex difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, that the ideal remedy for many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

All Join Hands.

It has been apparent that Senator John W. Kern, who would like to see himself back in the senate when his term expires next year, was dickering for the strongest support in the Democratic party and has joined Tom Taggart and his allies since the time has come when he must get down to brass tacks.

This is confirmed by Robert G. Tucker, Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati enquirer, who says that a harmonious working agreement has been reached between Kern and the members of the regular Democratic organization in the state. This was indicated by Senator Kern's recent eulogy of Tom Taggart. There can be no other conclusion, then, than that the senator has cast the "forward lookers," life belt and all, over board.

Tucker says it will not be surprising if Kern lines up with Taggart and the regular organization in selecting one of the machine's candidates to head the state organization.

Tucker tells the inside story of the "working agreement" which was supposed to have been made at a recent meeting of the Democratic state committee. Kern's sudden coming to the defense of Mayor Joe Bell of Indianapolis, who goes in trial Tuesday for election conspiracy, is another indication that Kern is body and soul with the state machine. Tucker continues as follows:

Senator Kern's defense of Taggart was a reminder of the old days in which they stood shoulder to shoulder in local and national politics. It is apropos in this connection to recall also that whenever a serious situation confronted Taggart, Senator Kern always lined up in his behalf—just as he is doing now—and that Taggart always came to the front for the Senator.

As a matter of fact, the present lineup among the Indiana Democratic leaders is in keeping with the past. The "forward-lookers," who have been counting on Senator Kern's assistance to oust Taggart from the leadership, are coming to exactly what was predicted for them a few months ago.

It is doubtful whether the machine could have beaten Senator Kern at the primary next March, but it is not doubtful whether it could have prevented his re-election if it had cared to make a fight against him during the campaign. Without its support in the kind of campaign that is ahead of the party he wouldn't have stood much of a chance of landing ahead of the Republicans.

It appears that an alliance for offensive, as well as defensive, purposes has been made by the Democratic leaders. Senator Kern spent the night recently at French Lick. On the following day there was a meeting of the Democratic State Committee and party leaders, at which there was a friendly exchange of compliments among them. Senator Kern spoke in the very highest of terms of Governor Ralston, referring to him as one of Indiana's greatest Governors.

Governor Ralston is a Taggart man through and through. However nice the compliments of Senator Kern may have sounded, it is not believed that he would have gone the limit of praising Senator Kern in the way he did if there had not been an understanding of some kind between Senator Kern and the head of the organization.

Taggart spoke very highly of the Governor and gave some advice on what should be done for the success of the party. Everything at the meeting indicated that a very friendly feeling existed.

Immediately following the meeting the publicity agent of the organization began to flood the Democratic papers of the state with excerpts from the speeches made by Senator Kern, Governor Ralston, Taggart, Representative J. A. M. Adair and others, all tending to show that there has been an agreement that Senator Kern shall be renominated without opposition, and that the Senator and his friends are not opposed to the continuation of the present leadership of the party.

That publicity department would not have gone to such extremes in an important matter of this kind without a tip or instructions from the actual leaders of the party is too well known to be doubted.

Through the same avenues of publicity the Democrats of the state have been informed this week of Senator Kern's view regarding the conspiracy charges against Mayor Bell and Taggart, all of which goes to confirm the belief that there is a very definite understanding that will result in the renomination of Senator Kern without opposition and that he will not make a fight against the Taggart leadership of the party.

The sinking of the Allan liner Hesperian without warning by a German submarine makes the recent official utterances from Berlin in regard to the modification of its submarine warfare look like a joke. On the fact of the recent diplomatic conversations between Washington and Berlin, it appears that Germany has been playing with the United States and the recent so-called diplomatic "triumph" of President Wilson is not what it first seemed. But before passing judgment on Germany's attitude, the official denial from Berlin will be awaited with interest.

How would you like to be compelled to go or send to some other town or city every time you want a paper of pins, or a spool of thread, or a sack of tobacco? 'Twould be a frightful nuisance, wouldn't it? And you wouldn't want to live in such a grave yard town, anyway, would you? And you would feel just like selling your farm or town property and going to some place with a little life wouldn't you—that is, if you could sell, and if anybody else was foolish enough to want to settle down and invest in a "dead hole." Now, do you think it is just a fair proposition—or even to your interest as a property owner—to make a convenience of the local dealer when you want pins or a smoke, and then send your trade that is worth having away to some galoot who doesn't care whether you live or die, just so long as he gets your money? Do you?

The death ship Eastland has been righted but that is more than can be said of the crime.

Just One Survivor.

(Boston Transcript.)

Just one American merchant steamer is loose on the Pacific Ocean with the American flag flying, the sole survivor of the not very large but still creditable enough trans-Pacific fleet of American ships sailing under the flag of their country which the President doomed to destruction when he signed that letter of marque against the American merchant marine known as the LoPollet act.

One survivor is left, the Minnesota, owned by the Great Northern Steamship Company of Seattle, but it will not survive long. The administration submarine has its bearings, and we may as well be prepared to hear any day that the stars and stripes have been hauled down to its deck.

"Our capitalists are not familiar with shipping enterprises," explains the bronzed mariner of the Treasury Department from the superior pedestal of his own vast and varied nautical experience to such kindergarten novices as, say, James J. Hill and Robert Dollar. "They will not engage in shipping ventures on any large scale, no matter what inducements are offered."

Queer, but a fact. Not even such an inducement as a government-created certainty of hand-over-fist bankruptcy to every financial backer of every American merchant marine craft under the American flag on the high seas can lure them to a life on the ocean's high wave. They will have naught to do with the wide and wandering sea. By actual preference they seem to be legging it for a mercantile mariner's snug harbor, quite unswept by ocean breezes and as near to the interoceanic center of the continent as possible.

"It is because they can make more money in other lines of business," explains Mr. McAdoo. Quite likely the sagacious salt is right. Other lines of business not all leading to inevitable government guaranteed ruin it is not improbable that capital, proverbially timid, may prefer some of them to sea ventures.

Meantime the Pacific ocean is now all swept clear of the socialistic excursion in government-owned nautical enterprise of which the Treasury Department seems to be admiralty headquarters.

TWO ASPECTS TO 'WAR IN INDIANA'

State Fair Fought For Its Share of Crowd But the Real Battle Took Place at Speedway.

BITTER FEELING RESULTED

Business Men Were Accused by Board—New Building to be Dedicated at Fair Grounds

Indianapolis, Sept. 6.—"War in Indiana" with two aspects was presented today when a great military spectacle was staged at the Speedway co-incident with the opening day of the state fair.

One war was real while the other was fictitious. The real war was the contest for the crowd which usually arrives on the first day of the state fair. The governor ordered the entire national guard to participate in today's war spectacle. Volleys of musketry could be heard in Indianapolis as the 2,500 infantrymen reinforced by artillery maneuvered with the Speedway track, firing 350,000 rounds of blank ark cartridges.

There were cavalry charges, trench fighting and artillery duels. Barbed wire entanglements, aeroplane and motorcycle scouts, army balloons and armored cars played their part. Machine guns alone were supplied with twenty thousand rounds of blanks.

The "War in Indiana" spectacle, a benefit performance to arise money for an armory in Indianapolis was backed by an organization of Indianapolis business men who chose the first day of the state fair for their date, because they wanted the crowd that originally would float to the city on excursion rates for the Labor day state fair card.

Bitter feeling resulted between the state board of agriculture and the local organization. President McCray of the state board protested to Governor Ralston. Nevertheless the governor headed the parade in the spectacle program. The state fair cut into its admission price and as a result broke about even with the spectacle, which because of its novelty and because it represented local enterprise was given more than an even break in publicity here.

Some of those connected with the fair complained bitterly against local business men today, declaring that they had for years actually opposed the fair in an attempt to keep the crowds in the business section.

Nothing was spared to make the state fair this year bigger and better than usual according to Secretary Downing of the state board of agriculture. For prizes and purses alone $71,507.25 was appropriated. The premium list is one of the richest ever opened to Indiana farmers. The regular purses for the speed department amount to $18,000. Two stake prizes amount to $12,000, making the total hung up for speed $30,000.

One of the most important ceremonies of the fair will be the dedication of the new building of the state board of forestry tomorrow. It will be a permanent education feature of the state fair.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared for the United Press by the Indiana Historical Commission)

STRUGGLE FOR FREE SCHOOLS

From its very beginning as a state, Indiana had an exceptional record on paper—for the advancement of education. In practice, however, it was one of the most backward and illiterate of states at the middle of the Nineteenth century. All the Northern and some of the Southern states were ahead of her. In 1864 Caleb Mills, the New England apostle of education in Indiana, began that wonderful campaign for free schools before the legislature. Public sentiment at that time may be guessed from the impassioned utterance of a Hoosier statesman who said he wished his epitaph to read—"Here lies an enemy of free schools."

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

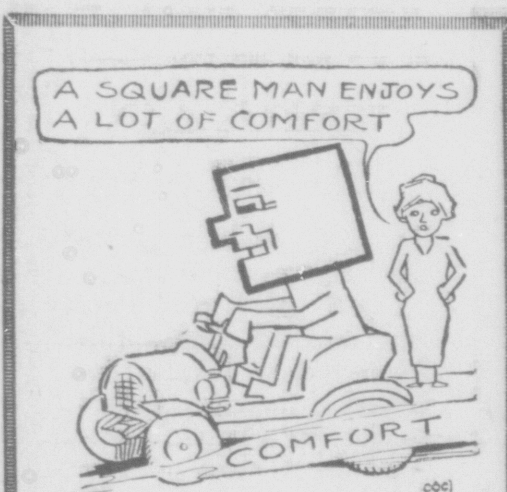

Daughter Helped Also.

"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The Hot Blast, Air Tight FLORENCE

Is the greatest stove ever made for burning hard coal, soft coal, slack or any other kind of fuel, and will burn one-third less fuel than any other make of stove to heat the same amount of space. The FLORENCE is the ONLY genuine HOT BLAST ON THE MARKET.

All patents are owned and controlled by J. B. Howard and sustained three different times by the United States courts. The FLORENCE is the best floor heater made, and if the fire pot cracks in five years we will give you one free of charge. The reason for this is the FLORENCE burns out the fuel. In all other stoves the fuel burns out the stoves. The FLORENCE is the only jointless leg bottom base made, with full radiation, that is on the market or that has ever been made, and will be just as good a fire keeper in twenty years as it is today. Beware of imitations and people who claim they have a stove like the FLORENCE or just as good as the FLORENCE, for when they tell you that they are admitting that the FLORENCE is the best stove on the market. When you buy your stove why not select the HOT BLAST AIR TIGHT FLORENCE, which will always be remembered as a pleasure and not as a regret.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Sept. 6.—The sphere that comes up out of the eastern horizon mornings is beginning to assume a slightly oval form, and those who have been speculating as to Ty Cobb's chances of finishing with a .400 average are beginning to wonder how Harvard is going to get along without Charley Brickley. The well known football season which has been on its way for a year is almost here.

The lid will be officially pried off two weeks from today when Coach Kelley's Carlisle Indian bucks collide with Albright at Carlisle.

A week later the big universities of the East and West swing into action and the season will be on in full. Little Dartmouth, which proved a Tartar for the big fellows last season, starts off with the Massachusetts Aggies on her home lot; Colby stacks up against Harvard the same day; Penn State takes Westminster; Princeton lines up with Georgetown; Syracuse with Hobart; the University of Pennsylvania with the University of West Virginia, and the Yale crowd mixes with the University of Maine at New Haven.

The absence of any big intersectional combat this season has detracted a lot from the interest. Last season fans in the East and West had the Yale-Notre Dame and the Harvard-Michigan battles to look forward to but the eastern schedule makers passed up the teams from the middle district and for the most part the games will be local quarrels. About the nearest things to clashes between the East and West are the Notre Dame-Army game, November 6; and the Michigan-Pennsylvania battle a week later, November 13.

What Easterners call their first really big game comes November 6, when Princeton meets Harvard at Princeton. Some other good games are on the docket for the same afternoon with Yale meeting Brown at New Haven; Dartmouth meeting The University of Pennsylvania at Boston; Ohio meeting Indiana at Columbus; Purdue meeting Iowa at LaFayette; Michigan meeting Cornell at Ann Arbor; and Oregon mixing with Washington on the Pacific

LOCAL HORSEMEN AT THE STATE FAIR

Number of Rush County Drivers Will be Seen "in Action" at Races Opening Today

HAVE SOME GOOD PROSPECTS

State fair visitors from Rushville and Rush county this week will have an opportunity to witness the driving of some Rush county horsemen. Dick Wilson, who has been on the great Western circuit all season will be seen up behind two or three likely horses in his stable. One horse which he has been training and which is owned by local men is "off his feed" and will be unable to start. Harrie Jones is another Rushville trainer who will be seen for the first time this year by local track fans. He has some entries that are expected to finish in the money. Clate Dagler has taken a string to the state fair track and Frank Lindsay is also there, with some of his horses entered.

A number of the horses which were in the big field at the Rush county fair are entered at the state fair, thus proving the high class of the races here week before last.

A week later comes the Yale-Princeton battle. Brown meets Harvard on the same day, Michigan and Pennsylvania come together; Cornell plays Washington and Jefferson; Illinois meets Wisconsin, and Kansas and Nebraska clash.

The climax comes seven days later when the historic Yale-Harvard game, with all the accompanying ceremonies, is played at Cambridge. Yale, with Brickley gone from the Crimson ranks, has high hopes of avenging last year's defeat.

Two games which will be every bit as bitterly fought are scheduled for the middle west the same day—the Purdue-Indiana scrap, and Coach J. Stagg's Maroons battle with Illinois. The season really comes to a close five days later on Thanksgiving Day, but the eyes of the sporting world will hardly turn from the gridiron until Uncle Sam has settled his private embroglio—the Army-Navy scrap—scheduled for the Polo Grounds the following Sunday. Notre Dame plays Rice Institute at Houston, Texas, the same day, and from then on the season dribbles away until December 4, when the University of Southern California plays the only game in the country against Whittier at Los Angeles.

C. I. FRENCH DIES OF HEART TROUBLE

Chester I. French, 48 years old, died Sunday morning at his home in East Seventh street, after a several months' illness from heart disease. Mr. French was well known, having lived here for many years. He had been in a critical condition for the past few weeks and his death was not unexpected. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge.

Mr. French is survived by his widow and five children. The children are Mrs. Chase Floyd of Piqua, Ohio, Mrs. Charles Moore of near New Salem, and Ben, Floyd and Gerald at home. The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY

Long List of Fair Sex Enter Tourney Opening at Lake Forest.

(By United Press.)
Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 6.—A long list of women golfers teed off today in the opening round of the western women's golf championship tournament, the first swinging swipe at the little white ball being taken promptly at 10 o'clock. The last will not be taken until dark has put an end to the first day's sport. At the same time the 32 women with the best individual scores will be declared the qualified contestants for five days' battle royal. There will be no more medal play after today's eliminations, except that for a non-qualifiers consolation prize tomorrow.

The first round of match play of Miss Vera Ramsey, the English golfer who recently won the Massachusetts title. Comparatively few eastern women are entered.

NEXT GAME AT COLUMBUS

Rushers Journey There Next Sunday—Rain Yesterday.

Rain once more interfered with the Rushville ball team. It has rained so often on Sunday that it has become a habit. There was never a chance yesterday that the game would be played as it rained practically all the day. Next Sunday the Rushers will journey to Columbus where the team will play the fast going Columbus team. The Columbus team has defeated about everything in sight this season and the Rushers will face a hard game.

AMERICAN BANKERS MEET

Program Includes an Address by Former President Taft.

(By United Press.)
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 6.—Preparatory to the annual convention of the American Bankers association, meetings of committees in charge of arrangements were held here today. In the afternoon the executive council met and rounded out the program, which is one of the most interesting in the organization's history, including, as it does, an address by William Howard Taft, former president of the United States. Hundreds of bankers, representing millions in wealth, will attend the convention, which officially begins Wednesday.

custody of his children was stricken off the docket for the want of prosecutor and the plaintiff is to pay the costs.

Judge Sparks appointed Raymond Springer, circuit judge-elect of Connersville, to hear the injunction suit of Henry S. Conaway and Myrtle Conaway against Phillip Wilk and William Redman, doing business under the firm name of Wilk & C. The special judge was appointed because the court was former counsel in the case.

The claim for $18 of Sarah E. Price against Martha E. Harrison, executrix of the will of Jane Harrison, deceased, was dismissed and the costs paid.

The complaint for a receiver filed by Alberta M. Walker, wife of A. P. Walker, against the Ideal Husker company, was dismissed on a written motion of the plaintiff and the costs were adjudged against her.

Judge Alonzo Blair, of the Shelby circuit court and formerly judge here, was appointed special judge to hear the claim for $7,000 filed by Harry M. Hudson against Ella M. Melville, administratrix of the estate of Jared P. Binford deceased, who was a wealthy farmer of Ripley township. Judge Blair was here today and accepted the appointment. Judge Sparks was formerly counsel in the case and for that reason refused to hear it.

ports that two women passengers died enroute to Queenstown and this afternoon reiterated the statements that all passengers were removed from the liner in safety.

A Queenstown dispatch this afternoon said the eleven-months-old baby of a Mrs. Jenkin of Birmingham was missing. This raised the number of passengers reported to have met their death to three.

Passengers landed at Queenstown asserted that the attack was made without warning. The United States Embassy here has not yet received any information on this point. The American consul at Queenstown telegraphed the embassy, however, that there were two Americans aboard, adding that none was lost.

The Hesperian, a vessel of 10,920 tons gross, was outward bound from Liverpool for Montreal. Many of the passengers were wounded Canadian soldiers on their way home from the front.

Early reports from Queenstown were that there were fifty passengers in the first cabin, 150 in the second and 250 in the third, but it later was announced at the Allan Line offices in Liverpool that the passengers numbered only about 350. There were approximately 250 in the crew.

The attack upon the Hesperian came just as darkness was falling. Passengers who have reached Queenstown express the belief that it had been chased for some distance by a submarine, which fired as soon as it was within range. The attack came so suddenly, it was stated, that great alarm was felt aboard the steamer.

The torpedo struck the Hesperian forward of the engine room, tearing away the forward part so that water rushed into the forward departments. The wireless operator instantly sent out a call for aid, while Capt. Main ordered the boats over the side. Three of them are said to have been upset in launching and twenty persons who were injured have been landed at Queenstown. So far as known, all those thrown into the water were saved.

A fleet of rescue streamers soon reached the scene and all the persons in the small vessels were taken aboard. When it was seen the Hesperian was likely to remain afloat for some time, Capt. Main, regarded as one of the most reliable commanders in the Allan line service, insisted upon returning to his ship to await the arrival of Admiralty tugs, which he hoped would be able to take it safely to Queenstown. Twenty of his men went back with him.

The Hesperian is a vessel of 6,124 tons net. It sailed from Montreal Aug. 17 for Liverpool, where it was reported to have arrived Aug. 27.

The Allan line, owners of the Hesperian, has been operated for about three years by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, ships of the line running between Great Britain and Canadian ports.

The Hesperian, a twin-screw steamer, was built at Glasgow in 1908. It was 485 feet long with a beam of sixty feet and a depth of hold of thirty feet.

Ronald Whiteway of London, who, with his wife, was a passenger on the Hesperian, said:

"We were sitting on the upper deck, the weather being delightful, when, about 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, we felt a violent impact which almost knocked us out of our chairs.

"In less time than I can tell it, a huge volume of water rose almost as high as the masts and, breaking drenched us to the skin. We had thought we were out of the danger zone and were discussing the possibility of a pleasant voyage.

MANILLA WOMAN EXPIRES

Mrs. Mary Rice Dies Sunday at Age of Sixty-Five Years.

Mrs. Mary A. Rice, widow of the late George W. Rice, who died April 27th, this year passed away at three-twenty o'clock Sunday morning at her home in Manilla; age, sixty-five years, four months and nine days. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Two years ago Mrs. Rice was stricken with paralysis of the throat, and since that time she had not been able to talk so as to be understood. Her health had failed her gradually since then and her condition lately had been quite serious.

Mrs. Rice had lived in Manilla only since a short time before the death of her husband. Her home the greater part of her life had been in Shelby county, she and her husband residing for many years on a farm a short distance north of Rays Crossing. She was widely and well known in the eastern part of Shelby county as in Rush county and her true Christian character made her beloved of all who knew her. She was a member of the Little Blue River Baptist church, in which she was always active, and she was also a member and an active worker so long as health permitted in the ladies aid society of the church.

The surviving children are two sons and three daughters—Austin W. Rice, living north of Rays Crossing; Herman L. Rice, at home; Mrs. John Gahimer, of Manilla; Mrs. Lon Rhodes, of near Manilla; Mrs. Scott Brown, east of Manilla. Mrs. Rice also leaves six grand children and one great grand child.

ABOUT SAME AS OTHER DAYS

Labor Day Here Varies Little From Usual Routine.

Labor Day was very little different from any other day here except that a few places of business were closed and the usual schedule was not carried out at the postoffice. The rural mail carriers got a rest and only one delivery of mail was made in the city. The banks, barber shops and blacksmith shops were about the only business houses to recognize the place as a legal holiday. Many people from here went to the state fair and the "War in Indiana" spectacle.

SPEAKER FAILS TO APPEAR

County Board Expected State Charities Board Speaker Today.

The county board of education, in session in the county superintendent's office this afternoon, expected to hear an address by a representative of the state board of charities, but at three o'clock the representative had not arrived. The trustees spent their time discussing new school laws. One change in particular, that in regard to the transfer of school children, was considered for some time. The law formerly provided $2 for grade pupils and $4.50 for high school pupils. The new law provides per capita cost shall be paid so long as it does not exceed the per capita cost of the township giving the transfer.

NO MEETING TODAY.

It was stated at the county auditor's office this afternoon that the "War in Indiana" in Indianapolis was the cause for the regular monthly meeting of the county board of commissioners not being held today. Two members of the board attended. The board will likely be in session tomorrow.

Our Autumn Showing of SHOES is Complete

to buy good shoes. How many times have you bought what seemed to be a "Bargain" and found yourself disappointed. There are counterfeit shoes the same as counterfeit money. There are shoes that seem to be good until you wear them. Our shoes live up to our claims—they are good and are reasonably priced.

A STYLISH
shoe is sometimes an uncomfortable shoe. A comfortable shoe is sometimes decidedly ugly. But in Mauzy's shoes style and comfort are combined in a satisfactory manner. Our shoes will always maintain the highest degree of perfection, and will always be sold at the lowest prices consistent with good workmanship and good quality.

The Footwear Department is full of fall fashions. Their newness will at once appeal to you. For every man, lady, college student, school boy and school girl there is an appropriate style. We feature such well known makes as Queen Quality, J. & K., Wright and Peters and Bostonians. The distinction of high class, exclusive workmanship—the assurance of knowing that the style is correct beyond the question of a doubt—the merit of select and durable materials—the comfort of a good fit—the economy of a reasonable price—all these features are combined into the footwear we offer—and appeal to the discriminating buyer that cannot be ignored.
The Sweeping Sale of Girls' School Dresses will be continued throughout the week. Be sure to get yours.

AN OLD FORGING GAME IS WORKED

Young Couple Swindles 3 Grocers by Purchasing Small Bill of Goods
and Presenting Bogus Check.

ALL OF THEM ARE FOR $7.50

Charles Berry, One of Grocersmen,
Becomes Suspicious and Learns
Paper is Worthless.

Three local grocers were swindled by a check forger Saturday night. The victims were Charles Berry, James Voile and W. E. Clarkson. In each instance the checks were for $7.50 and at all three of the stores the forger purchased a small bill of goods and obtained the change from the check.

They first appeared at the W. E. Clarkson and Son's store in West Third street. From here they went to the Voile store in West Second Street and then to the Berry store. In each instance the checks were made payable to "F. E. Palmer." The checks received by Voile and Clarkson were signed in the name of The Winkler Grain Company, but the one received by Berry was signed "Case Lumber Company." All the checks were on the Rushville National bank.

At the Berry store they purchased $1.95 in goods. Mr. Berry stated that he was suspicious, but nevertheless cashed the check. As soon as they left the store Mr. Berry got busy and learned how the Case Lumber company signed their checks. It was a rank forgery and he started out to look for the couple. The police were notified but no trace was found of the man and woman.

It is believed they left the city on a traction car. It is estimated that the couple obtained at least fifteen or sixteen dollars from the three merchants.

A. M. PRICE DROPS DEAD AT MANUEVERS

Caretaker of Local Hitchrack, Participating in "War in Indiana," is Stricken Suddenly.

WAS MEMBER OF IVY COMPANY

A. M. Price, age about sixty-six years, a veteran of the civil war and caretaker of the city hitchrack for a number of years, dropped dead during maneuvers at the "War in Indiana" at the Indianapolis motor Speedway this afternoon, according to word received here about three o'clock. Mr. Price was a member of Ivy company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, of this city, which took part in the maneuvers.

No details were received concerning his demise other than that he had dropped dead, it is presumed, from heart trouble. His health has been such that he has been able to be at his duties at the hitchrack every day. His son, Russell Price, was in Indianapolis and it was thought here he would take charge of the body. At four o'clock this afternoon the widow, at 318 West Tenth street, was still without any news of his death aside from that received here in dispatches.

Mr. Price is survived by the widow and three children, Russell of this city and Mrs. R. E. Martin, living southeast of here, and Mrs. Nannie McCready, living west of here.

Former Congressman Makes Address
at Republican Labor Day Rally
This Afternoon.

WAS AT GOLDSMITH SATURDAY

James E. Watson left this morning for Noblesville where he was to deliver a Labor Day speech at a big Republican rally in that city. Although there was the state fair and the "War in Indiana" at Indianapolis to attract people, the Republicans of that section of the state were planning to give Mr. Watson a big reception.

Mr. Watson just arrived home Saturday evening from Goldsmith, Tipton county, where he delivered a speech Saturday afternoon at an old settlers' meeting. Several years ago Mr. Watson was invited to speak at the annual gathering of old settlers, but rain fell in torrents and he was unable to speak. He promised to return some time later when it was desired that he speak and the managers of the meeting held him to his promise this year.

IVY COMPANY GOES UP FOR MANUEVERS

Rushville Uniform Rank Expected to
Making Good Showing at
"War in Indiana" Today

AN EXTRA CAR ON THE I. & C.

Ivy Company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, went to Indianapolis this morning to participate in maneuvers at the "War in Indiana" at the Speedway. It was just announced Saturday that the Uniform Rank of Indiana would have a part in the immense war spectacle being staged this afternoon for the benefit of a proposed national guard armory. Arrangements were soon made and the members of Ivy company readily joined in the effort to make a good showing at the maneuvers. General Samuel E. Traub, adjutant general on the staff of Major General William H. Loomis, and Colonel G. P. Hunt, chief-mustering officer on the staff of General William B. Gray, will have prominent places in the review.

The I. & C. ran two cars at the time for the Dispatch this morning and both were crowded, with passengers standing. Ivy company went on one of those cars.

A marriage license was issued Saturday afternoon to Homer L. Anderson and Mrs. Edna Sharon. Both are residents of Carthage.

COURT OPENS IN USUAL ROUTINE

Calling of Docket, Making up Issues
and Dismissal of Many Cases
Marks Beginning Today.

ARGUMENT SET FOR FRIDAY

Validity of Public Service Commission Will be Attacked in First
Case of its Kind.

The September term of the Rush circuit court was opened this morning, with calling of the docket and making up the issues in several cases. A number of suits were dismissed, as is the general rule at the opening of a term. Nothing of much importance is scheduled for trial this week excepting the hearing set for Friday of the case of the city of Rushville against the state public service attacking the validity of the act creating the commission in relation to the orders issued by the commission increasing the rates of the Peoples Natural and Central Fuel Gas companies.

The argument in this case will be of wide importance as it will be the first time the question of the constitutionality of the public service commission act will be tested. Bert New, legal advisor to Governor Ralston, and either Attorney General Milburn or some one from his office will be present to defend the commission act.

John A. Tittsworth and T. M. Green will represent the gas companies in the attack made by the city on the law as a means of preventing the enforcement of orders raising the rates of the two gas companies. The city will be represented by Kiplinger & Smith. The suit is for an injunction and to review the order of the commission increasing the rates. Briefs in the case have been in the hands of the court a good part of the vacation season.

On the showing that John Lewis was a minor, in the petition to sell real estate of Nina Lewis, administratrix of the estate of the late John G. Lewis, against Nina Lewis and John Lewis, B. F. Miller was appointed guardian of John Lewis and accepted the trust.

The replevin suit of Minnie A. Wilson against John A. Wilson, in which $25 was demanded, was dismissed by the plaintiff at the plaintiff's costs. It was appealed from Squire Kratzer's court.

The case of Sallie Southworth against Alvin Southworth for a divorce and alimony was dismissed by the plaintiff at her cost.

The suit which was brought by Gale Smiley against Lawrence C. Cumins for the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage and a receiver for a barber shop Smiley sold to Cumins was dismissed by Smiley and the costs are to be paid for. Two hundred dollars was demanded.

A. R. Herkless's suit to foreclose an improvement lien against Clyde Dishingier and Lessie Grace Dishingier, in which $100 was demanded, was dismissed and the costs paid. A similar suit brought by Herkless against P. A. Miller, in which the demand was $300, was also dismissed and the costs paid.

The account suit demanding $19.50 of Agnes Winston against Victor Scott was dismissed and the costs paid.

Enos Porter of Shelbyville Offers
$50 Flag to Largest Shelby

COMING TO "BURGOO" FEAST

Word Comes From Other Counties of
Preparations For Big Event,
Big Kettle Shipped.

Enos Porter, a manufacturer of Shelbyville and a most enthusiastic Republican has offered a silk flag valued at $50 to the township in Shelby county which sends the largest delegation to Rushville for the ox roast and "burgoo" feast in the city park here one week from next Wednesday, September the fifteenth.

This is only illustrative of the interest which is being taken elsewhere in the biggest political event of the state thus far this campaign. If the interest is as keen in other counties as it is in Shelby, there isn't any question but that the estimates previously placed on the crowd which is expected will have to be revised.

John H. Kiplinger, chairman of ox roast committee, received word today that the immense kettle which will be used for cooking the "burgoo" had been shipped from Lexington, Ky., by N. D. Lawrence, the "burgoo" man, and that it would arrive here in the next few days. The kettle will hold six hundred gallons and many persons have been trying to imagine just how big a kettle that will hold six gallons is. Many are skeptical and say plainly they will "have to be shown."

That is just what the committee expects to do—show them. As soon as the kettle arrives, it will be thoroughly cleaned and pasted over with placards advertising the big political meeting. It will then be stationed in some public place for the inspection of everyone.

Personal letters are being sent broadcast inviting prominent Republicans from all parts of the state to the big meeting. Judging from replies which are coming in daily, practically every part of the state will be represented.

Dick Elliott has written from Connersville that there will be an immense automobile delegation and others by traction, headed by a brass band, from his home city and word comes from Judge Head at Brookville that Franklin county Republicans will send a big crowd to show where their heart is. The same news reaches here from Union and Hancock and it is believed that Henry county will also be well represented.

Although Decatur county is not in the sixth district, the Republicans of Greensburg and the county at large are planning to take a holiday on the fifteenth and visit in Rushville. Jefferson Davis, of northern Decatur county, who is a staunch friend and great admirer of James E. Watson's has spent all of his time since the ox roast was announced driving about Decatur county urging his friends to come.

An effort is being made to get the Columbia club and the Marion club to send delegations, with a brass band, from Indianapolis. It is said that Mr. Watson's friends in Marion county will not miss the opportunity of hearing him.

In addition to candidates for places on the state ticket, personal invitations have been sent to every avowed Republican congressional candidate in the state of Indiana and to all those who have either been mentioned or have considered the advisability of running for Congress.

(By United Press.)
Montreal, Sept. 6.—"I am practically certain there was no gun mounted on the Hesperian," was the statement of Andrew Allan today, concerning the dispatch of the American consul that a 4.7 inch rifle was mounted astern.

"We have no guns mounted on any of our ships," he said, "unless they have been taken over by the government as transports. A 4.7 is a pretty big gun and in order to mount one of them on a liner the whole of the inside of the ship would have to be braced up. I don't think it possible that a gun could have been put on the Hesperian."

SUCH ATTACKS UNWARRANTED

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(U. F. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 6.—Awaiting complete reports on the supposed torpedoing of the Allan liner Hesperian, President Wilson and Secretary Lansing suspended judgment and action today.

None of the tension and anxiety which followed the Arabic incident was observable. Officialdom did not discount the new situation's gravity as bearing on the prospective German-American submarine controversy, but the general view was that Germany had repudiated her formal guarantee against unarmed U-boat attacks on American liners.

Arrangements were made today for an early conference between Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Bernstorff, the latter being scheduled to arrive here during the day.

The Hesperian incident did not bring Secretary Lansing to the state department today. White House attaches did not seem worried.

Officials said it was most fortunate the incident was preceded by the receipt of Germany's pledge concerning Germany's submarine warfare. They expressed the belief that this pledge was given in good faith and they expected a satisfactory explanation.

There was some question whether the liner was torpedoed. Some thought it struck a mine.

Amsterdam, Sept. 6.—Germany will disavow the attack on the Hesperian, if English reports of the circumstances are corroborated by her submarine commander, according to a dispatch from Berlin today.

Germany's explanation, the dispatch stated, will be that if a submarine torpedoed the liner without warning, it was because the U-boat had left its base before the new instructions were issued through the admiralty.

(By United Press.)
London, Sept. 6.—The Allan liner Hesperian, attacked by a German submarine off the Irish coast Saturday evening, sank at 6:47 a. m. today while proceeding to Queenstown.

A wireless dispatch to Queenstown this noon said Captain Main and members of the crew who remained aboard the Hesperian were taken off safely. They were placed aboard steamers towing the Hesperian after she sank.

Earlier advices had indicated that though the liner was badly damaged she was expected to remain afloat. She was due to arrive at Queenstown at about 10 a. m. today. Her course took her over the graves of the Lusitania and Arabic. It was presumed that she settled within a few miles of the hulk of one of the other victims of German boats.

Contradictory reports were received here today about the loss of life. Officers of the Allan line gave out a statement that the 350 passengers and 300 men of her crew had all been put into boats and had reached Queenstown in safety.

Press dispatches, however, reported the death of Miss Carberry, who is said to have been hurled from one of the boats and to have died from the shock, and of another woman who was badly injured and died on a rescue steamer.

The injured number about thirty. For the most part they were passengers in two of the boats which capsized in the darkness before they struck the water.

Not more than two or three American citizens, these members of the crew, were reported aboard the Hesperian. Queenstown dispatches today said that no Americans were injured.

Officers of the Allan line late this afternoon received a brief preliminary report from the officers of the steamer Hesperian. The contents of the report were not disclosed but it was understood Captain Main said the liner was attacked without warning and that she made no attempt to escape.

The captain, other officers and members of the crew were landed at Queenstown today. It was pointed out here the sinking of the Hesperian preventing examination in dry dock might cause some doubt as to whether she has been torpedoed or had struck a mine. Allan line officials said affidavits already collected from passengers offered proof that the vessel was submerged.

Sixteen men of the crew of 286 of the Hesperian had not been accounted for this afternoon, it was stated here. Of the passengers, 333 have arrived at Queenstown. The Allan line had no confirmation of re-

Dr. Strong Says Typhus Mortality

Rate in Serbia is Reduced
From 70 to 20 Per Cent

WITHIN SPACE OF 3 MONTHS

Head of American Mission Spends
Nights on Train Hurrying to
Assistance of Stricken

BY HENRY WOOD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Nish, Serbia, Aug. 4. (By Mail)—

From 100,000 cases of typhus to 600 and from a maximum mortality of 70 per cent to one of 20—all within the space of three months is the record of the American Red Cross and Rockefeller Institute Sanitary mission sent here to save the Serbian nation from the epidemic that was threatening its actual existence.

By Sept. 1, Serbia will be entirely free of the plague.

The full story of the most remarkable humanitarian task ever undertaken by the United States was today told for the first time in an interview granted to the United Press by Dr. Richard P. Strong, professor of tropical disease at Harvard University, and head of the American mission. The interview took place in the little third class railway car, which fitted out with beds in one part and a shower bath in the other, and with a flat car attached behind for carrying his automobile and another car in front for the members of his immediate staff, has been practically the only home Dr. Strong has known in Serbia. Almost every night of the three months campaign has been spent by him abroad the car hurrying from one end of Serbia to the other in the fight against the deadly plague.

"The typhus epidemic in Serbia," stated Dr. Strong, "began last January in the vicinity of Valievo, following the Austrian invasion of the month before, and spread with such rapidity that it became the greatest epidemic of the disease recorded in modern medical annals. The epidemic reached its height in the middle of April just as the American mission arrived. New cases then numbered 5,500 daily, but it must be remembered that these were the figures only of the victims who came to the military hospitals. Serbia had not been able even to keep statistics of the victims among the civil population and so the above figures give, as a matter of fact, no accurate idea of the extent of the epidemic. "In fact, few figures of any kind are to be had, but presumably the total deaths from the epidemic have been about 100,000 and the number of victims down with the disease at the time we took charge was very likely of equal magnitude.

"As such an epidemic of typhus never before had occurred in the history of modern medicine, I freely confess that it was with no little concern we first arrived here. A quick survey of the situation convinced me the plague could be wiped out in four months. I am still confident that when the four months are entirely past, the last of the 600 cases still remaining will have disappeared.

"Following the preliminary organization of a national sanitary board, something Serbia had not had, and the division of the country into sanitary districts, we at once went after the practical end of the work—namely the chasing down and extermination of the louse from whose bite alone the disease is transmitted.

"As the quickest means of reaching the greatest number of the stricken population in the shortest possible time, we had two refrigerator cars placed at our disposal. In one of these was installed an apparatus for the disinfecting of clothing by heavy steam pressure and its immediate drying afterwards. In the second car was fitted the necessary appliances for a disinfecting bath of the victims.

"With the arrival of the car at each town, a tent was at once pitched by the side of the railroad in which the population could undress. They then entered the first car where they left their clothing for disinfection and passed immediately into the second car for the disinfection of their bodies. Only ten minutes were required for the joint operation at the end of which time each person was given back his clothing, dried and ready to put on, with the absolute assurance that not a single louse or nit remained.

"Our average speed was 500 to 600 cases a day and in the three and a half months we have had the car in operation we figure that a total of not less than 600,000 persons have been reached in this manner.

"Unfortunately, railway communication in Serbia is very limited and the reaching of the population in the interior presented a different problem. Individual sanitary missions were therefore sent to each important town traveling in military automobiles or carriages, and frequently having their supplies carried in ox carts. Disinfecting and bathing plants were then established in each big center of population and the same process of extermination carried on.

Where the Serbian government had funds at its disposal these plants were erected at its expense, but where it did not, we paid for them ourselves. A total of 53 plants were thus installed by us and they constitute a permanent part of Serbia's equipment for fighting a similar situation should it ever come again.

"The next most important phase of the work was our sanitary assault of the military hospitals. These from the start had been the most prolific centers for the spreading of the disease. They were at all times congested to the limit with wounded or sick soldiers, whose infested clothing quickly spread the disease to almost every inmate.

"In attacking the hospitals we took with us portable bath tubs and had at our disposition the Austrian prisoners to give the sick and wounded their disinfecting baths. While they were doing this we put their clothing and bedding through the steam process and then wound up by disinfecting the entire building with sulphur and often even white-washing the walls. Of the 113 military hospitals in Serbia fully 100 passed through this sanitary regeneration at our hands.

"Still another most important phase of the work was the visiting of every house almost in the entire kingdom and separating the diseased from the well. The quarantining of the infected persons was something which the local authorities had not been able to undertake, but under our direction it was quickly and thoroughly carried out.

"While we were hard at work on this extermination of typhus we also had our eyes constantly on the lookout for cholera and typhoid. None of the former was found, but the latter was abundant. Against this, and against the former too, we therefore prepared in our own laboratories which we had established in the old Turkish town of Uskub, a combined serum against cholera, typhoid and paratyphoid. This was prepared in such a manner that two injections were sufficient and thus it was possible to administer it to both the army and the civil population with a minimum of labor. For this task of vaccination we had our own vaccinating car which covered all the territory that could be reached by rail, and we also furnished the serum to the French surgeons here who undertook its administration in the army.

"In connection with this laboratory work, we started from the very first on a search for the typhus germ but up to the present moment complete success has not crowned our efforts. The organism discovered by Dr. Plotz at Mt. Sinia hospital New York, has not yet been found here by us, but with the aid of cultures which he has placed at our disposition complete success may yet crown this end of the work. It is being actively pushed by Dr. Zinsser of Columbia and Dr. Sellards of Harvard.

"One of the most happy features of the whole work was the manner in which we ourselves, after the terrible experiences of the Serbian and American Red Cross units kept free from the disease. Not one of the 54 men comprising our mission fell a victim. But naturally we had at our disposition all of the latest possible preventions. Every doctor assigned to hard work amongst the victims wore a vermin proof suit, rubber gloves and adhesive bands above the wrists and ankles. We have not been able to demonstrate that the disease is contagious and in fact there seems no reason to believe that it is transmitted otherwise than by the bite of the infected vermin.

"In Montenegro we were most fortunate in being able to check the epidemic before it could become general. Dr. Grinnell of Harvard, who was assigned to that territory, arrived when the disease had only got into the towns. These were quickly quarantined and the plague out at once.

"Thus by the middle of August I think I will be able to guarantee that typhus will be a thing of the past in Serbia. Not only that, but we would be greatly disappointed if it ever came again. But still even in this later case, Serbia now has at its disposition all of the facilities necessary for speedily combatting any outbreak.

"Naturally our success was only possible through the most hearty cooperation of every man composing the mission, and this has been one of the two bright spots of the entire task. There was not a man who ever objected to any task assigned him no matter how disagreeable or even how dangerous it might be.

"The other bright spot which stands out most vividly was the unflinching kindness of Sir Thomas Lipton to the members of the mission. Not only did he cheer us up with words at every moment when cheer was most needed but this unending efforts to furnish members of the mission with little odds and ends for their material comfort gave evidence of a kindly consideration of others such as I have never before met.

"As a result of our four months work here, I think I can safely say that Serbia is a regenerated nation from a sanitary point of view and the effects of this I feel certain will be reflected in her national life and development for years to come."

DISCUSS PROBLEMS GROWING FROM WAR

American Public Health Association
Convenes Today and Considers
Vigilance Against Disease.

WHICH WILL INVADE AMERICA

(By United Press.)

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The American Public Health Association, convening here today, was expected to devote much consideration to the problems that have grown out of the war in Europe. The necessity for vigilance against epidemic diseases is in the mind of every state and municipal health officers present, judging by their statements.

"This year," said Prof. William T. Sedgewick, president of the association, "we must beseech all Americans to prepare to deal with unusual invasions of minute, mostly invisible, but often multitudinous and powerful enemies. We must defend American homes against typhus as well as typhoid, against Asiatic cholera and against bubonic plague.

W. H. Parris Lost Certificate of Deposit For $600.

The loss of a certificate of deposit for $600 is the basis of a suit filed today by William H. Parris against the Rush County National bank. The complaint states that on December 30, 1914 he deposited $600 with the bank and was given a certificate payable in six months bearing six per cent interest. Mr. Parris states that on August 20, 1915, he lost the certificate and now has no means of showing that he had the money on deposit. He demands $650. It is understood that the suit is entirely friendly.

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

The battle on which the fate of Paris rests is raging along a front of 150 miles, the Germans apparently attacking in greatest force on the French right. In the Marne Valley the French have driven back the Germans. Nancy vigorously attacked by Germans. German forces are within ten miles of Ghent. Their attack on Antwerp, has been delayed, through fear of assault by the remnant of the Belgian army, it is believed.

The Austrian resistance is reported broken and the Russians are in pursuit between the Vistula and the Bug. Russians are encompassing Przemysl. Its fall expected to mean much toward making an advance on Berlin possible.

Belgrade still stubbornly resisting Austrian attack.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful, says a well-known hygienist, is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, poisoning the blood and lodging in various organs, muscles, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face. "But get your liver and bowels working as they ought without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble fig apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness, though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'Santal' tablet, and it realizes there's nothing to be followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall, and a laxative which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unslightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old remedy, long ago made a bit particularly professional, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits. "Santal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santal tablets are not only the latest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santal tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a bit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Santal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of enfeebling the "catarrhic habit." Also instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of santal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

Amusements

The Gem will show a four act drama "Conscience" for the program tonight. Allan Holubar, William Welch and Howard Crampton are featured. It is said to be an exceptionally fine drama, with plenty of action. Tomorrow night the two reel Bison drama "The Test of a Man" will be shown.

The Princess has a big five-act attraction tonight which should draw well. Such stars as Nance O'Neal, Theda Bara and William Shay are to be seen in the film play taken from the celebrated novel, "Kreutzer Sonata." The story deals unsparingly with the social problem and reveals it in a way that is far different from the ordinary photoplay of the same character. Tomorrow night Norma Talmage, Maurice Costello and Van Dyke Brooks will be seen in the Broadway Star feature film, "The Criminal." The next of the serial, "The Goddess" will be the bill for Wednesday night and Thursday night a new Chaplin picture, "His Favorite Pastime" will be shown.

Mrs. Nina Lewis, administratrix of the estate of the late Dr. John G. Lewis, has filed an account suit in Squire Kratzer's court for $55 against Margaret Bussell.

Society News

The Glenwood C. W. B. M. auxiliary will meet the second Tuesday in September, the fourteenth, with Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Lewis Matney will be the leader.

Mrs. Edna Sharer and Homer L. Anderson were married Saturday evening by the Rev. C. M. Yocum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Grindle, corner of Harrison and Fifth street. Both are well known people of Carthage. He is the agent for the Big Four railway there.

All active and inactive members of the Tri Kappa sorority will meet tonight at seven o'clock with Mrs. Chauncey Duncan at her home, 315 North Perkins street.

The Tri Kappa Sorority will be entertained by Mrs. Lewis V. Henry at her home, Seventh street, Thursday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's M. E. church will have a called meeting at the church tonight at seven-thirty o'clock.

Sam V. Blair of this city has been appointed district agent of the Aetna Life Insurance company. The appointment came as a surprise to him as he had only been in their employ a short time after returning to Rushville. Mr. Blair will possibly open office in the Peoples Bank Building in the next few days.

All Join Hands.

It has been apparent that Senator John W. Kern, who would like to see himself back in the senate when his term expires next year, was dicker-ing for the strongest support in the Democratic party and has joined Tom Taggart and his allies since the time has come when he must get down to brass tacks.

This is confirmed by Robert G. Tucker, Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati enquirer, who says that a harmonious working agree-ment has been reached between Kern and the members of the regular Democratic organization in the state. This was indicated by Sena-tor Kern's recent eulogy of Tom Taggart. There can be no other conclusion, then, than that the sena-tor has cast the "forward lookers," life belt and all, over board.

Tucker says it will not be surpris-ing if Kern lines up with Taggart and the regular organization in se-lecting one of the machine's candi-dates to head the state organization.

Tucker tells the inside story of the "working agreement" which was supposed to have been made at a recent meeting of the Democratic state committee. Kern's sudden com-ing to the defense of Mayor Joe Bell of Indianapolis, who goes in trial Tuesday for election conspiracy, is another indication that Kern is body and soul with the state machine. Tucker continues as follows:

Senator Kern's defense of Tag-gart was a reminder of the old days in which they stood shoulder to shoulder in local and national politics. It is apropos in this con-nection to recall also that whenever a serious situation confronted Tag-gart, Senator Kern always lined up in his behalf—just as he is doing now—and that Taggart always came to the front for the Senator.

As a matter of fact, the present lineup among the Indiana Democra-tic leaders is in keeping with the past. The "forward-lookers," who have been counting on Senator Kern's assistance to oust Taggart from the leadership, are coming to exactly what was predicted for them a few months ago.

It is doubtful whether the machine could have beaten Senator Kern at the primary next March, but it is not doubtful whether it could have prevented his re-election if it had cared to make a fight against him during the campaign. Without its support in the kind of campaign that is ahead of the party he wouldn't have stood much of a chance of land-ing ahead of the Republicans.

It appears that an alliance for of-fensive, as well as defensive, pur-poses has been made by the Democ-ratic leaders. Senator Kern spent the night recently at French Lick. On the following day there was a meeting of the Democratic State Committee and party leaders, at which there was a friendly exchange of compliments among them. Sena-tor Kern spoke in the very highest of terms of Governor Ralston, re-ferring to him as one of Indiana's greatest Governors.

Governor Ralston is a Taggart man through and through. However nice the compliments of Senator Kern may have sounded, it is not believed that he would have gone the limit of praising Senator Kern in the way he did if there had not been an understanding of some kind be-tween Senator Kern and the head of the organization.

Taggart spoke very highly of the Governor and gave some advice on what should be done for the success of the party. Everything at the meeting indicated that a very friend-ly feeling existed.

Immediately following the meeting the publicity agent of the organiza-tion began to flood the Democratic papers of the state with excerpts from the speeches made by Senator Kern, Governor Ralston, Taggart, Representative J. A. M. Adair and others, all tending to show that there has been an agreement that Senator Kern shall be renominated without opposition, and that the Senator and his friends are not op-posed to the continuation of the present leadership of the party.

That publicity department would not have gone to such extremes in an important matter of this kind without a tip or instructions from the actual leaders of the party is too well known to be doubted.

Through the same avenues of pub-licity the Democrats of the state have been informed this week of Senator Kern's view regarding the conspiracy charges against Mayor Bell and Taggart, all of which goes to confirm the belief that there is a very definite understanding that will result in the renomination of Sena-tor Kern without opposition and that he will not make a fight against the Taggart leadership of the party.

The sinking of the Allan liner Hesperian without warning by a German submarine makes the recent official utterances from Berlin in re-gard to the modification of its sub-marine warfare look like a joke. On the fact of the recent diplomatic conversations between Washington and Berlin, it appears that Germany has been playing with the United States and the recent so-called di-plomatic "triumph" of President Wilson is not what it first seemed. But before passing judgment on Ger-many's attitude, the official denial from Berlin will be awaited with in-terest.

How would you like to be com-pelled to go or send to some other town or city every time you want a paper of pins, or a spool of thread, or a sack of tobacco? 'Twould be a terrible nuisance, wouldn't it? And you wouldn't want to live in such a grave yard town, anyway, would you? And you would feel just like selling your farm or town property and going to some place with a little life wouldn't you—that is, if you could sell, and if any-body else was foolish enough to want to settle down and invest in a "dead hole." Now, do you think it is just a fair proposition—or even to your interest as a property owner—to make a convenience of the local dealer when you want pins or a smoke, and then send your trade that is worth having away to some galoot who doesn't care whether you live or die, just so long as he gets your money? Do you?

The death ship Eastland has been righted but that is more than can be said of the crime.

About every family has it skele-ton, and some of them are mighty fat and sassy.

Current Comments

Just One Survivor.

(Boston Transcript.)
Just one American merchant steamer is loose on the Pacific Ocean with the American flag flying, the sole survivor of the not very large but still creditable enough transpa-cific fleet of American ships sailing under the flag of their country which the President doomed to destruction when he signed that letter of marque against the American merchant ma-rine known as the LoFollete act.

One survivor is left, the Minneso-ta, owned by the Great Northern Steamship Company of Seattle, but it will not survive long. The adminis-tration submarine has its bearings, and we may as well be prepared to hear any day that the stars and stripes have been hauled down to its deck.

"Our capitalists are not familiar with shipping enterprises," explains the bronzed mariner of the Treasury Department from the superior pedes-tal of his own vast and varied nauti-cal experience to such kindergarten novices as, say, James J. Hill and Robert Dollar. "They will not en-gage in shipping ventures on any large scale, no matter what induc-ements are offered."

Queer, but a fact. Not even such an inducement as a government-cre-ated certainty of hand-over-fist bankruptcy to every financial backer of every American merchant marine craft under the American flag on the high seas can lure them to a life on the ocean's high wave. They will have naught to do with the wide and wandering sea. By actual prefer-ence they seem to be legging it for a mercantile mariner's snug harbor, quite unswept by ocean breezes and as near to the interoceanic center of the continent as possible.

"It is because they can make more money in other lines of busi-ness," explains Mr. McAdoo. Quite likely the sagacious salt is right. Other lines of business not all lead-ing to inevitable government guaran-teed ruin it is not improbable that capital, proverbially timid, may pre-fer some of them to sea ventures.

Meantime the Pacific ocean is now all swept clear of the socialistic excursion in government-owned nauti-cal enterprise, of which the Treasury Department seems to be admiralty headquarters.

TWO ASPECTS TO 'WAR IN INDIANA'

State Fair Fought For Its Share of Crowd But the Real Battle Took Place at Speedway.

BITTER FEELING RESULTED

Business Men Were Accused by Board—New Building to be Dedicated at Fair Grounds

Indianapolis, Sept. 6.—"War in Indiana" with two aspects was pre-sented today when a great military spectacle was staged at the Speed-way co-incident with the opening day of the state fair.

One war was real while the other was fictitious. The real war was the contest for the crowd which usu-ally arrives on the first day of the state fair. The governor ordered the entire national guard to participate in today's war spectacle. Volleys of musketry could be heard in Indian-a-polis as the 2,500 infantrymen rein-forced by artillery maneuvered with the Speedway track, firing 350,000 rounds of blank ark cartridges.

There were cavalry charges, trench fighting and artillery duels. Barbed wire entanglements, aero-plane and motorcycle scouts, army balloons and armored cars played their part. Machine guns alone were supplied with twenty thousand rounds of blanks.

The "War in Indiana" spectacle, a benefit performance to arise money for an armory in Indianapolis was backed by an organization of Indi-anapolis business men who chose the first day of the state fair for their date, because they wanted the crowd that originally would float to the city on excursion rates for the Labor day state fair card.

Bitter feeling resulted between the state board of agriculture and the local organization. President Mc-Cray of the state board protested to Governor Ralston. Nevertheless the governor headed the parade in the spectacle program. The state fair cut into its admission price and as a result broke about even with the spectacle, which because of its nov-elty and because it represented local enterprise was given more than an even break in publicity here.

Some of those connected with the fair complained bitterly against local business men today, declaring that they had for years actually opposed the fair in an attempt to keep the crowds in the business section.

Nothing was spared to make the state fair this year bigger and better than usual according to Secretary Downing of the state board of agri-culture. For prizes and purses alone $71,507.25 was appropriated. The premium list is one of the richest ever opened to Indiana farmers. The regular purses for the speed de-partment amount to $18,000. Two stake prizes amount to $12,000, making the total hung up for speed $30,000.

One of the most important cere-monies of the fair will be the ded-ication of the new building of the state board of forestry tomorrow. It will be a permanent education fea-ture of the state fair.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared for the United Press by the Indiana Historical Commis-sion)
STRUGGLE FOR FREE SCHOOLS
From its very beginning as a state, Indiana had an exceptional record on paper—for the advancement of education. In practice, however, it was one of the most backward and illiterate of states at the middle of the Nineteenth century. All the Northern and some of the Southern states were ahead of her. In 1864 Caleb Mills, the New England ap-ostle of education in Indiana, be-gan that wonderful campaign for free schools before the legislature. Public sentiment at that time may be guessed from the impassioned utter-ance of a Hoosier statesman who said he wished his epitaph to read: "Here lies an enemy of free schools."

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

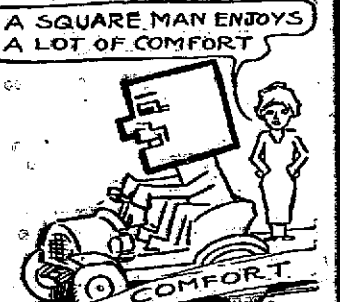

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying bet-ter health now than I have for twelve years. When I be-gan to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta-ble Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very ner-vous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recom-mend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.
"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta-ble Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for ad-vice. Your letter will be openly read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

LID WILL SOON BE PRIED OFF
Harvard Will Play Carlisle and Then They'll Know What She Can Do Without Brickley.
ONLY TWO WEEKS TO WAIT

Absence of Big Intersectional Combat This Year Detracts a Lot From the Interest.
By GEORGE R. HOLMES. (U. F. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Sept. 6.—The sphere that comes up out of the eastern horizon mornings is beginning to assume a slightly oval form, and those who have been speculating as to Ty Cobb's chances of finishing with a .400 average are beginning to wonder how Harvard is going to get along without Charley Brickley. The well known football season which has been on its way for a year is almost here.
The lid will be officially pried off two weeks from today when Coach Kelley's Carlisle Indian bucks collide with Albright at Carlisle.
A week later the big universities of the East and West swing into action and the season will be on in full. Little Dartmouth, which proved a Tartar for the big fellows last season, starts off with the Massachusetts Aggies on her home lot; Colby stacks up against Harvard the same day; Penn State takes Westminster; Princeton lines up with Georgetown; Syracuse with Hobart; the University of Pennsylvania with the University of West Virginia, and the Yale crowd mixes with the University of Maine at New Haven.
The absence of any big intersectional combat this season has detracted a lot from the interest. Last season fans in the East and West had the Yale-Notre Dame and the Harvard-Michigan battles to look forward to but the eastern schedule makers passed up the teams from the middle district and for the most part the games will be local quarrels. About the nearest things to clashes between the East and West are the Notre Dame-Army game, November 6; and the Michigan-Pennsylvania battle a week later, November 13.
What Easterners call their first really big game comes November 6, when Princeton meets Harvard at Princeton. Some other good games are on the docket for the same afternoon with Yale meeting Brown at New Haven; Dartmouth meeting The University of Pennsylvania at Boston; Ohio meeting Indiana at Columbus; Purdue meeting Iowa at LaFayette; Michigan meeting Cornell at Ann Harbor; and Oregon mixing with Washington on the Pacific coast.

LOCAL HORSEMEN AT THE STATE FAIR
Number of Rush County Drivers Will be Seen "in Action" at Races Opening Today
HAVE SOME GOOD PROSPECTS

State fair visitors from Rushville and Rush county this week will have an opportunity to witness the driving of some Rush county horse-men. Dick Wilson, who has been on the great Western circuit all season will be seen up behind two or three likely horses in his stable. One horse which he has been training and which is owned by local men is "off his feed" and will be unable to start.
Harrie Jones is another Rushville trainer who will be seen for the first time this year by local track fans. He has some entries that are expected to finish in the money. Clate Dagler has taken a string to the state fair track and Frank Lindsay is also there, with some of his horses entered.
A number of the horses which were in the big field at the Rush county fair are entered at the state fair, thus proving the high class of the races here week before last.
A week later comes the Yale-Princeton battle. Brown meets Harvard on the same day, Michigan and Pennsylvania come together; Cornell plays Washington and Jefferson; Illinois meets Wisconsin, and Kansas and Nebraska clash.
The climax comes seven days later when the historic Yale-Harvard game, with all the accompanying ceremonies, is played at Cambridge. Yale, with Brickley gone from the Crimson ranks, has high hopes of avenging last year's defeat.
Two games which will be every bit as bitterly fought are scheduled for the middle west the same day—the Purdue-Indiana scrap, and Coach J. Stagg's Maroons battle with Illinois.
The season really comes to a close five days later on Thanksgiving Day, but the eyes of the sporting world will hardly turn from the gridiron until Uncle Sam has settled his private embroglio—the Army-Navy scrap—scheduled for the Polo Grounds the following Sunday. Notre Dame plays Rice Institute at Houston, Texas, the same day, and from then on the season dribbles away until December 4, when the University of Southern California plays the only game in the country against Whittier at Los Angeles.

C. I. FRENCH DIES OF HEART TROUBLE

Chester I. French, 48 years old, died Sunday morning at his home in East Seventh street, after a several months' illness from heart disease. Mr. French was well known, having lived here for many years. He had been in a critical condition for the past few weeks and his death was not unexpected. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge.
Mr. French is survived by his widow and five children. The children are Mrs. Chase Floyd of Piqua, Ohio, Mrs. Charles Moore of near New Salem, and Ben, Floyd and Gerald at home. The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY
Long List of Fair Sex Enter Tourney Opening at Lake Forest.
(By United Press.)
Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 6.—A long list of women golfers teed off today in the opening round of the western women's golf championship tournament, the first swinging swipe at the little white ball being taken promptly at 10 o'clock. The last will not be taken until dark has put an end to the first day's sport. At the same time the 32 women with the best individual scores will be declared the qualified contestants for five days' battle royal. There will be no more medal play after today's eliminations, except that for a non-qualifiers consolation prize tomorrow.
The first round of match play of Miss Vera Ramsey, the English golfer who recently won the Massachusetts title. Comparatively few eastern women are entered.

NEXT GAME AT COLUMBUS
Rushers Journey There Next Sunday—Rain Yesterday.

Rain once more interfered with the Rushville ball team. It has rained so often on Sunday that it has become a habit. There was never a chance yesterday that the game would be played as it rained practically all the day. Next Sunday the Rushers will journey to Columbus where the team will play the fast going Columbus team. The Columbus team has defeated about everything in sight this season and the Rushers will face a hard game.

AMERICAN BANKERS MEET
Program Includes an Address by Former President Taft.
(By United Press.)
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 6.—Preparatory to the annual convention of the American Bankers association, meetings of committees in charge of arrangements were held here today. In the afternoon the executive council met and rounded out the program, which is one of the most interesting in the organization's history, including, as it does, an address by William Howard Taft, former president of the United States. Hundreds of bankers, representing millions in wealth, will attend the convention, which officially begins Wednesday.

COURT OPENS IN USUAL ROUTINE

custody of his children was stricken off the docket for the want of prosecutor and the plaintiff is to pay the costs.

Judge Sparks appointed Raymond Springer, circuit judge-elect of Connersville, to hear the injunction suit of Henry S. Conaway and Myrtle Conaway against Phillip Wilk and William Redman, doing business under the firm name of Wilk & C. The special judge was appointed because the court was former counsel in the case.

The claim for $18 of Sarah E. Price against Martha E. Harrison, executrix of the will of Jane Harrison, deceased, was dismissed and the costs paid.

The complaint for a receiver filed by Alberta M. Walker, wife of A. P. Walker, against the Ideal Husker company, was dismissed on a written motion of the plaintiff and the costs were adjudged against her.

Judge Alonzo Blair, of the Shelby circuit court and formerly judge here, was appointed special judge to hear the claim for $7,000 filed by Harry M. Hudson against Ella M. Melville, administratrix of the estate of Jared P. Binford deceased, who was a wealthy farmer of Ripley township. Judge Blair was here today and accepted the appointment. Judge Sparks was formerly counsel in the case and for that reason refused to hear it.

The suggestion that the U-boat might have left port before the new instructions were issued caused some surprise. Germany has contended unwarned attacks on passenger vessels never were countenanced.

ports that two women passengers died enroute to Queenstown and this afternoon reiterated the statements that all passengers were removed from the liner in safety.

A Queenstown dispatch this afternoon said the eleven-months-old baby of a Mrs. Jenkin of Birmingham was missing. This raised the number of passengers reported to have met their death to three.

Passengers landed at Queenstown asserted that the attack was made without warning. The United States Embassy here has not yet received any information on this point. The American consul at Queenstown telegraphed the embassy, however, that there were two Americans aboard, adding that none was lost.

The Hesperian, a vessel of 10,920 tons gross, was outward bound from Liverpool for Montreal. Many of the passengers were wounded Canadian soldiers on their way home from the front.

Early reports from Queenstown were that there were fifty passengers in the first cabin, 150 in the second and 250 in the third, but it later was announced at the Allan Line offices in Liverpool that the passengers numbered only about 350. There were approximately 250 in the crew.

The attack upon the Hesperian came just as darkness was falling. Passengers who have reached Queenstown express the belief that it had been chased for some distance by a submarine, which fired as soon as it was within range. The attack came so suddenly, it was stated, that great alarm was felt aboard the steamer.

The torpedo struck the Hesperian forward of the engine room, tearing away the forward part so that water rushed into the forward departments. The wireless operator instantly sent out a call for aid, while Capt. Main ordered the boats over the side. Three of them are said to have been upset in launching and twenty persons who were injured have been landed at Queenstown. So far as known, all those thrown into the water were saved.

A fleet of rescue streamers soon reached the scene and all the persons in the small vessels were taken aboard. When it was seen the Hesperian was likely to remain afloat for some time, Capt. Main, regarded as one of the most reliable commanders in the Allan line service, insisted upon returning to his ship to await the arrival of Admiralty tugs, which he hoped would be able to take it safely to Queenstown. Twenty of his men went back with him.

The Hesperian is a vessel of 6,124 tons net. It sailed from Montreal Aug. 17 for Liverpool, where it was reported to have arrived Aug. 27.

The Allan line, owners of the Hesperian, has been operated for about three years by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, ships of the line running between Great Britain and Canadian ports.

The Hesperian, a twin-screw steamer, was built at Glasgow in 1908. It was 485 feet long with a beam of sixty feet and a depth of hold of thirty feet.

Ronald Whiteway of London, who, with his wife, was a passenger on the Hesperian, said:

"We were sitting on the upper deck, the weather being delightful, when, about 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, we felt a violent impact which almost knocked us out of our chairs.

"In less time than I can tell it, a huge volume of water rose almost as high as the masts and, breaking drenched us to the skin. We had thought we were out of the danger zone and were discussing the possibility of a pleasant voyage.

MANILLA WOMAN EXPIRES

Mrs. Mary Rice Dies Sunday at Age of Sixty-Five Years.

Mrs. Mary A. Rice, widow of the late George W. Rice, who died April 27th, this year passed away at three-twenty o'clock Sunday morning at her home in Manilla; age, sixty-five years, four months and nine days. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Two years ago Mrs. Rice was stricken with paralysis of the throat, and since that time she had not been able to talk so as to be understood. Her health had failed her gradually since then and her condition lately had been quite serious.

Mrs. Rice had lived in Manilla only since a short time before the death of her husband. Her home the greater part of her life had been in Shelby county, she and her husband residing for many years on a farm a short distance north of Rays Crossing. She was widely and well known in the eastern part of Shelby county as in Rush county and her true Christian character made her beloved of all who knew her. She was a member of the Little Blue River Baptist church, in which she was always active, and she was also a member and an active worker so long as health permitted in the ladies aid society of the church.

The surviving children are two sons and three daughters—Austin W. Rice, living north of Rays Crossing; Herman L. Rice, at home; Mrs. John Galtimer, of Manilla; Mrs. Lon Rhodes, of near Manilla; Mrs. Scott Brown, east of Manilla. Mrs. Rice also leaves six grand children and one great grand child.

ABOUT SAME AS OTHER DAYS

Labor Day Here Varies Little From Usual Routine.

Labor Day was very little different from any other day here except that a few places of business were closed and the usual schedule was not carried out at the postoffice. The rural mail carriers got a rest and only one delivery of mail was made in the city. The banks, barber shops and blacksmith shops were about the only business houses to recognize the place as a legal holiday. Many people from here went to the state fair and the "War in Indiana" spectacle.

SPEAKER FAILS TO APPEAR

County Board Expected State Charities Board Speaker Today.

The county board of education, in session in the county superintendent's office this afternoon, expected to hear an address by a representative of the state board of charities, but at three o'clock the representative had not arrived. The trustees spent their time discussing new school laws. One change in particular, that in regard to the transfer of school children, was considered for some time. The law formerly provided $2 for grade pupils and $4.50 for high school pupils. The new law provides per capita cost shall be paid so long as it does not exceed the per capita cost of the township giving the transfer.

NO MEETING TODAY.

It was stated at the county auditor's office this afternoon that the "War in Indiana" in Indianapolis as the cause for the regular monthly meeting of the county board of commissioners not being held today. Two members of the board attended. The board will likely be in session tomorrow.

Notice of Insolvency.

In the matter of the estate of Milton Wagner, deceased.

In the Rush Circuit Court. No. 2303
Notice is hereby given that upon petition filed in said Court by the administrator of said estate, setting up the insufficiency of the estate of said decedent to pay the debts and liabilities thereof, the Judge of said Court, did, on the 6th day of September, 1915, find said estate to be probably insolvent, and ordered the same to be settled accordingly. The creditors of said estate therefore are hereby notified of such insolvency and required to file their claims against said estate for allowance.
